EDITORIAL POLICY

The MIFLC Review was established in 1990 under the editorship of Leonor A. Ulloa and is the annual publication of the Mountain Interstate Foreign Language Conference. It publishes critical studies on the modern languages and literatures as well as interdisciplinary, comparative, linguistic, and pedagogical studies. Submissions must be based on papers and presentations at the annual MIFLC meeting. Papers prepared only for oral delivery and lacking proper documentation will not be considered.

Manuscripts may be written in English, French, Spanish or German. They should be between twelve and twenty pages long, excluding notes, and in a format appropriate for publication, with all necessary documentation included. Documentation should follow the MLA Style Manual. The author's name should appear only on the cover page; it will be removed before review by the Editorial Board. Each manuscript will be evaluated by at least two editors or members of the Board; a third reader will be consulted in case of significant disagreement.

The author should send the original manuscript and two copies, along with the stamped, self-addressed envelope, to the Editor of the MIFLC Review. The deadline for submissions is January 30.

Accepted manuscripts are the property of the MIFLC Review, which retains all copyrights. Rejected manuscripts without self-addressed, stamped envelopes will not be returned.

The MIFLC Review is indexed on the MLA International Bibliography and is a member of the Council of Editors of Learned Journals.

Antioche ou le monde à l'envers: Gloire et dénouement dans Crisante de Jean Rotrou

Hélène d'Oreye 9

Abstract. Jean Rotrou's little known play Crisante was long seen as merely one tragedy among many. It can be read, however, not simply as a tragedy but as a parody of the tragic genre. Through his use of plot lines and characterizations, Rotrou consciously raises questions about the theatrical aesthetics of his day, particularly about the form that the ending of a tragedy should take.

Voyeuristic Representations of Displaced Desire in Claire Denis' Beau travail

Julie D. Hendrix 25

Abstract. Claire Denis's film Beau travail depicts repression and unfulfilled desire in a world characterized by rigidity. Through the voiceover narration from Galoup's diary we learn about his past and the events that led to his discharge from the French Foreign Legion; the distance between present narration and past events reinforces our sense of his repression. This creates a voyeuristic quality in the film, which suggests both his sexual desire and the alienation that leads to his frustration.

Silence and the Unsayable in Lorca's Doña Rosita la soltera

Daniel R. Walker 33

Abstract. Although not as well known as the tragic cycle consisting of Bodas de sangre, Yerma, and La casa de Bernarda Alba, Federico García Lorca's Doña Rosita la soltera o El lenguaje de las flores (1935) is much more than a curious artifact of a
